The 10th Institute of Refractories Engineers
Convocation & Training Seminar.
(Australian Branch)

20-21st November 2017
Mercure Sydney Airport Hotel, Wollri Creek

Introduction:

Following the success of the first Institute of Refractories Engineers (Australian Branch) Conference held in 2001 interest and support for this informative and dedicated refractories event has continued to grow.

The focus on practical rather than theoretical aspects of refractory engineering will appeal to industrial practitioners both domestically and internationally.

Not only does this event enable delegates to learn more about refractories technology, it also provides a networking opportunity through participation with manufacturers, installers, researchers and a variety of industrial end users.

This is the 10th such convocation.
